

Appendix B: Place codes

The following lists provide state-specific codes for all place variables. This means that, in most cases, the meaning of the place code is dependent on the corresponding state code. The lists are divided into four sections: generic codes; Puerto Rican places; U.S. places; and other (foreign) places.

Generic

For all geographical variables, there exists a set of commonly used codes:

0000	Concealed code (to protect confidentiality)
8888	Not applicable
9999	Unknown/missing

US-specific generic code:

7777	Existing location, but outside of established MSA.
------	--

Puerto Rico-specific generic code:

100	Rural or presumably rural area.
-----	---------------------------------

Note: The Generic place codes are the only geo-codes that are not state-specific.

Puerto Rico

The place codes for Puerto Rico refer to town identification numbers that are specific to each Puerto Rican municipio (municipio code in parentheses).

The United States

The place codes for the United States refer to metropolitan-statistical-area FIPS codes, as assigned by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) in 1993. These codes, although not dependent on a single state code like Puerto Rican codes, are only applicable when the corresponding state variable falls within the range of 100 to 199.

Other

Outside Puerto Rico and the United States, codes could only be assigned to places in the Dominican Republic. Places in other countries had to be coded as 9999.
